SOCIAL EVENTS

For Mrs. May

One of the prettiest parties of the season was that of Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Porter Huls entertained at her home on Johnson lights in compliment to Mrs. Will May, whose marriage was an event of the past week. The first of the afternoon was devoted to "miscellaneous shower," followed by several games of "500." As the guests arrived they were met at the door by those attractive little girls, Mrs. Marion and Mildred Cockrell, who presented the gifts, which were presented to the guest of honor. What gift was a clever original was "Advice to the Bride," which was read by Mrs. May as she opened the gifts. After the gifts had been distributed and admired the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to card playing by a most delicious lunch. Mrs. Huls' guests were: Mrs. May, Mrs. Hallie Gillaspie, William Tipton, Mrs. Albert, Mrs. Mattie Coleman, Miss Beth Coleman, Miss Patty Thompson, Miss Lucille Huls, Miss Adelaide, Miss Elizabeth Judy, Miss Jones, Mrs. Alfred P. Jones, Carolyn Bourne, Miss Marcelles, Miss Martha Pieratt, Elizabeth Clay Highland, Miss Robertson, Mrs. Bright Cockrell, Miss Anne B. Pinney.
